The Preferred Vendor Designation

Simplifying your procurement decision by checking all the boxes: vetted, reliable, scalable, compliant and proactive.

For organizations responsible for site security, the term “preferred vendor” carries real weight.

When a general contractor, developer, or owner selects a security partner, they’re looking for more than just equipment: they’re seeking assurance.

They want a provider who already checks the boxes: vetted, reliable, scalable, compliant, and proactive.

When you designate a company as a preferred vendor, you simplify the procurement decision for your stakeholders.

It says, “We’ve done our homework. This partner meets our standards.”

That’s why being on an underwriter’s preferred-vendor list matters.
